ABSTRACT

This memo presents a plan for a CIA Office of Estimates, presupposing the establishment of research support, new senior personnel, and IAC cooperation. The proposed organization, functions, and procedural methods are outlined. The memo suggests a coordination and Liaison Staff, an Administrative Staff, a Current Intelligence Division, five regional Divisions and a Functional and a General Division. [redacted] are used as precedents to help establish procedures for the proposed office, especially in regards to coordination. Already existing CIA estimative functions are discussed and discarded as unacceptable. Finally discussion of research functions, a Research Office, and IAC relationships is included. (note states "achially drafted by Montague.") (Source document for HS-1, Chapter X, page 47.)
